

Gathering works & Publishing articles

We started the project in an effort to gather different digital and/or digitalized materials which school librarians have been sharing in the past few years by exchanging them on CD-ROMs, with the intent that school librarians be able to access all these materials from one site. In addition to uploading finished materials, the repository of school library works could point to different sites all over the Internet.

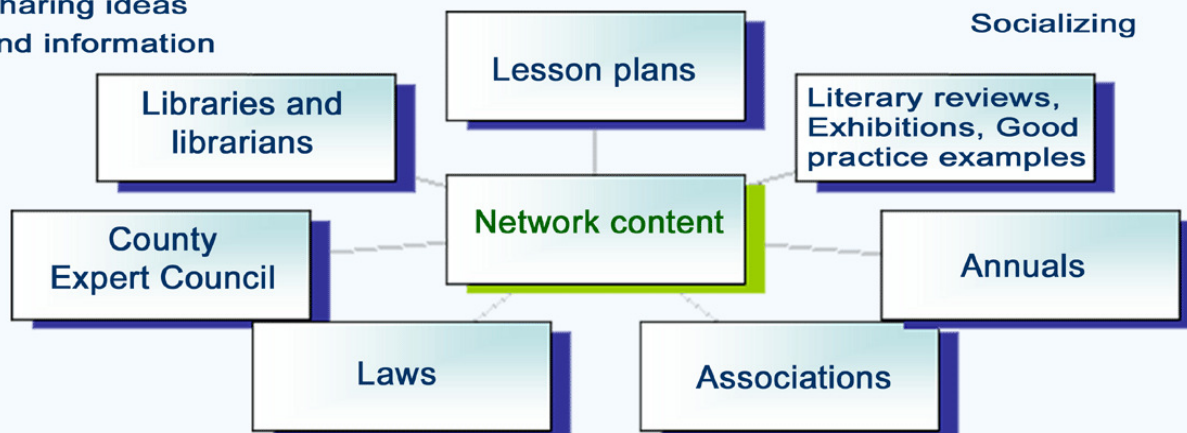

Whilst making plans about CMS (content management system), we expected that members would upload their works, in different formats, at the repository about miscellaneous types of school librarians' activities, both those concerning the educational-training activities, as well as the expert activities and those of cultural and public interest. Also, members could publish articles directly without knowing html, php, ftp etc. In addition to publishing final works, www.knjiznicari.hr gives the opportunities to school librarians to jointly work on various projects.

CNSL is focal point for County Expert Council of School Librarians, where all types of works can be presented, ranging from sending invitation to publishing statements. CNSL will give basic information about all school libraries in Croatia, including basic information about school librarians. School librarians will be able to examine at all rules regarding school libraries on a single site. CNSL contain information on different school activities and joint projects, presentations of school librarians etc. On CNSL librarians exchange not only their works but more importantly – ideas, And CNSL is becoming social converse so we invite to join us everybody who are interested in school library.

HRVATSKA MREŽA ŠKOLSKIH KNJIŽNIČARA

We believe that there is no need for hierarchy as CNSL is a space where school librarians work for school librarians so we have no chiefs, or some kind of editorial board. But, if you like, you can create a list of feature articles or some portals of feature materials.

In a fact, everybody can add anything, and everybody can change everything, including deleting materials and reverting it. It is a place for practicing democracy, and we are making it successfully, still.
